MIGHT HAVE LET HIM FINISH.

As It Turned Out, Lawyers Were Unnecessarily Excited.

In a suit in a Maine court not long ago there was adduced a line of testimony that created some excitement. A witness had testified that he saw the defendant "splitting up" rails a few hours before the accident for which defendant was supposed to be responsible.

"What did he say he was going to do with the rails?" asked the counsel, fixing the wandering eye of the witness with his stern gaze.

Before the witness could answer, the defendant's counsel was on his feet, insisting that the question was not allowable. A prolonged wrangle ensued. Various high authorities for and against the admission of the question were consulted and quoted.

During all this time the witness shifted from one leg to the other, and gave vent to several prodigious yawns. As the controversy waged hotter and hotter something like a smile was seen to pass across his face.

At last the judge ruled that the question must be allowed and while the defendant's counsel, exhausted with rage, leaned back in his chair excitedly, the query was put once more:

"What did the defendant say he was going to do with the rails?"

"Nawthin," drawled the witness. "I were drivin' my sister's niece to catch a train when I see him. An' now, ef it ain't unconstitutional, I'd like to set down as my legs is about givin' out."—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

What Yale Men Eat.

Some statistics have been published by the Yale Dining club to show what the 1,068 members of that organization who eat at the Yale commons manage to get away with in the line of food. In a week, for instance, 6,500 pounds of meat, 900 dozen eggs and 5,100 rolls and loaves of bread disappear down the Yale throat.

The daily consumption is about like this: Nine hundred and twenty-nine pounds of meat, subdivided into 286 pounds of roast beef, 284 pounds of poultry, 144 pounds of lamb, 143 pounds of pork and 72 pounds of steak; 100 loaves of bread, 1,200 rolls, 50 pounds of oatmeal, 1,200 quarts of milk, 120 quarts of cream, 120 pounds of table butter and a like amount for cooking purposes, and from three to four bunches of bananas, as well as 20 bushels of potatoes.

Two hundred gallons of soup is prepared daily for the two meals. Several years ago, when the club had 1,050 members, the figures showed an equal preference for meat but not so decided a leaning toward eggs. Other wise the items were proportionately the same.

A Miss.

Commissioner Bingham of New York said the other day of a shrewd western detective:

"He is very shrewd, but he likes to show off overmuch. There is a good deal of this Sherlock Holmes business about him. A Scotch-Canadian wanted to join the force the other day. To make himself look respectable he bought a suit of clothes from a friend of his, a stationary engineer. When he presented himself at headquarters our Mr. Sherlock Holmes was the first person he had to see.

"Mr. Sherlock, looking up from his desk, scanned the applicant shrewdly, shot a quick glance round the room to see that he had everyone's attention, and then said, in his deepest, most impressive voice:

"Aha, a mechanic, I perceive."

"Na, na!" replied the Scotchman. "A Mackenzie."

A Bank

A successful bank is founded on the confidence, not only of its customers, but of all the people in the community.

It must be conservative of its customer's funds and also of its own assets.

It must be liberal in treatment of those who do business with, giving good advice when asked and financial aid where needed.

The reason this bank has succeeded is because it has had the confidence of the people; has been liberal in treatment, and above all—SAFE.
